BRAVES TRY TO STOP WINNING BUCKS; FAIL

SATURDAY'S GAME IS VICTORY FOR PENDLETON BY SCORE OF 4 TO 2.

A lanky individual select Bryant who hails from the smelter at the west end and who this year pitched Echo into possession of the pennant of the irrigation league Saturday got his first trial in professional company when Eddie Ford sent him to the mound to stop the winning streak of the Buckaroos, and though he failed to accomplish that particular end, he did quite as well as the men on the regular payroll. The Bucks beat him 4 to 2 but with a little better support, he wouldn't have been defeated by more than one score.

In the very first frame, the Bucks put a runner around without the aid of a hit. Bryant walked Naughton, the first man up, and that was the only walk he gave during the whole game. Whitt sacrificed him along and a moment later, he finished the trip when Walters winged the ball over third, Naughton having advanced just far enough off second on Varian's infield out to draw the throw.

In the second, the Bucks got their only bunch of hits off the bush heaver, Peterson opened with a single and Briggs sacrificed him along. Coen scored him with a clean drive, also second and himself tallied up when Shroeder sent one shrieking over first. The same combination of hitters put over the fourth and final Buck run. Peterson began the fourth inning with a two-sacker, was sacrificed to third by Briggs and squeezed home by Coen.

Lefty Shroeder was in his peerless form during seven of the eight innings he pitched and the efforts of the Braves were hopeless. In the other inning, the seventh, he was nipped for three hits and two runs. With one down Harrod doubled and Greene's single brought him in. Krause's hit pushed Greene to second and when he started to steal third, Lefty pitched the ball into center field, giving him safe passage home.

LADIES! SECRET TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR

BRING BACK ITS COLOR AND LUSTRE WITH GRANDMA'S SAGE TEA RECIPE.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant; remove over bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush, with it and draw this through our hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautiful dark, glossy soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.

BUCKAROOES CLEAN UP SERIES AGAINST YAKS

LEWIS PITCHES LODELL'S STARS TO WIN YESTERDAY BY SCORE 9 TO 4.

Yesterday's Results.
At Pendleton—Pendleton 9, North Yakima 4.
At Baker—Walla Walla 8-2, Baker 6-0.

Accomplishing a feat that has not been done before this season, the unbeatable Bucks made a clean sweep of the entire series with the tall-end Yakimas by grabbing the Sunday game 9 to 4. They did it, too, with Lewis, recently a member of the Yakima tribe, in the box for them and his victory made 17 wins for Pendleton in the last 20 games played. Ample reason in that for the position the team occupies just beneath the fluttering pennant.

Lewis got a bad start against his former teammates, so bad in fact that one Tate Berry of the appleton contingent, confidentially to his manager that they would get a million runs if Lewis were allowed to finish. That was just after he had completed his dash around the diamond for the second bell of the inning. As a prophet, Tate reminds us of the campaign manager of a senatorial candidate furnished with a majority given in the first precinct reported. Louis was permitted to finish and not until the finish did the Messrs. Fordmen get anything that counted in the run column. Then with a seven run lead, the new Buck twirler eased up a bit and was hit for two runs.

Ford started the sidewheeler, Angerer, but as he contributed a couple of markers in the very first inning, he was derelicted and Peterson was again sent in to save the game. However he got through with even less credit than in his previous game. After trying his hardest to stop the bucks and failing, he displayed the saffron sign of the quitter and his defeat was therefore an inglorious one.

As heretofore chronicled, the visitors made their first two counters in the opening chapter. Three hits through the infield from the bats of Walters, Berry and Harrod, together with a little clever pathwork turned the trick. The home guard came right to the lead. Naughton opened with a hit off Angerer, Whitt sacrificed him along and Peterson's bludgeon registered him. His own fadeaway slide was what enabled him to escape being an out at the plate. Angerer wild-pitched Peterson to second and then, after an infield out had put the runner on third, another wild pitch was forthcoming to complete the score.

In the third the Bucks stepped in badly. The home guard came right to the lead. Naughton again opened the inning with a hit and this time it was for two sacks. Whitt again sacrificed him along. Peterson smote the ball to short and Naughton scored and Peterson reached first when Krause mishandled it. Peterson was forced at second on Pembroke's infield ball, Briggs drew a walk and then Curly Coen lifted the ball over first, scoring Pembroke.

It was in the eighth that Pitcher Peterson showed that he is not above tossing up the sponge when things go badly. It was in this inning that Pendleton scored five runs with two down. Lodell began by drawing four wide ones and there were two on and none down when Peterson tried to catch Lodell at second on Osborne's bunt. Lodell was caught at third a moment later when Lewis bunted and Lewis was forced at second by Naughton, leaving two on and two down with Whitt up. Naughton commenced the undoing of Peterson by stealing second while he held the ball in the box. His next offering was met by Whitt for a clean blow over second. Berry tried to make a shoetop catch and the ball went through him to the fence, being good for three bags and two scores. Peterson then began lobbing the ball over and Peterson singled, Pembroke tripled, and Briggs singled in succession before the third out was made.

Krause opened the ninth for Yakima with a double and two scores counted when Peterson poled the ball over the fence.

10,000 YEAR OLD SKULL FOUND IN CALIFORNIA

BERKELEY, Cal., June 29.—That there lived in California as much as 10,000 years ago men of a very tolerable degree of intellectual development is the conclusion drawn by Prof. J. C. Merriam of the state university here from a careful study of the skull of a prehistoric human being found recently in the asphalt sink at La Brea.

The professor said that there could be no doubt, from surrounding geological indications, of the approximate age in which the owner of the skull lived. In the same pit were the bones of lower animals recognized as belonging to the same period. The skull, as Merriam pointed out, is but slightly smaller than that of the present day man. The forehead is high and from the size of the brain cavity and other general indications he felt confident that the head's owner belonged to a type of far from unintelligent beings.

JOHNSON RETAINS HIS CHAMPIONSHIP TITLE

BLACK HEAVYWEIGHT EASILY PROVES SUPERIORITY TO FRANK MORAN.

PARIS, June 29.—"Jack" Johnson still holds the heavyweight championship of the world. In a hard fought battle at the Veldrome d'Hiver here Saturday night he easily defeated Frank Moran of Pittsburgh on points in a 20-round contest. Moran was game and stubborn.

The great amphitheater presented a wonderful sight, for although there were some empty seats, the tiers were crowded with representatives of every element. The singular spectacle was presented of several hundred women, in handsome gowns, applauding the two pugilists as they struggled up and down the ring.

Johnson's uppercutting effective. Johnson's superior skill and his effective uppercutting wore down his opponent and won the fight which at times seemed rather amateurish. Terrific uppercuts, on which Johnson had relied in many of his previous battles, were again brought into play on his young adversary, who was unable effectively to block them. They were repeatedly sent to Moran's jaw when he least expected them and several times with such force that the Pittsburgher was sent wobbling but there was not a single knockdown or anything that looked like a finishing blow. At the close Moran's face was bleeding from cuts on the nose and left eye; Johnson showed no marks.

Towards the middle of the contest it appeared as if Moran would not last the 20 rounds but he showed courage and kept driving. Although he landed a number of times on the negro, his blows lacked force and were comparatively ineffective. Now and then he tried to land hard on his adversary and in so doing swung wildly through space, Johnson being several feet away.

Johnson took his punishment well and during parts of rounds, the negro toyed with him when he saw that he could do so without danger. Towards the end Johnson had the Pittsburgher absolutely at his mercy. Moran apparently feared he would be finished and clung to Johnson's body for support, trying at the same time to land, but without success. His manner of fighting and holding in the latter part of the contest was the cause of unfavorable comment.

The tactics of Johnson on several occasions also brought a caution from the referee as well as a storm of jeers from the crowd.

Many of the French spectators who seemingly did not understand the fine points of boxing, voiced their objection to in-fighting but cheered any resounding harmless whacks.

BADGER WILL INSPECT NORTHWESTERN ORCHARDS

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Ore., June 29.—Oregon methods of orchard practice have attracted the attention of mid-west fruit growers, and the University of Wisconsin will have a horticultural expert in the Hood River district during the summer to inspect the orchards and observe methods of handling fruit. The purpose of the visit is announced by the University of Wisconsin Press Bulletin as follows:

"To learn what orchard methods are followed by western orchardists which might be adapted by Wisconsin fruit men, R. F. Howard, agricultural experiment station, University of Wisconsin, will this summer visit many of the fruit farms in the Hood River valley, Oregon. Many of the young men attending the college of agriculture are interested in orcharding and desire information on the western plan of handling and marketing of fruit."

Minimum Wage Law in Effect

OLYMPIA, Wash., June 27.—Effective today, $10 will be the legal minimum weekly wage of girls over 18 and women employed in Washington mercantile establishments, under an order issued by the industrial welfare commission. This figure was decided on after numerous conferences between employers, employees and representatives of the public, at which exhaustive testimony was given by women showing what it cost to provide themselves with food, clothes and shelter. The industrial welfare commission was created by the state legislature last year.

Go in as often as you like if your suit is Skinner's Satin

Wear it all summer long—in fresh or salt water—it will not fade or lose its lustre.

Known everywhere as the standard for garment linings, the remarkable wearing quality of

Skinner's Satin

has proved the most reliable satin for bathing suits. Woven of full-size, pure dye silk, it withstands the severest tests of water and sun.

Women who buy inferior satins soon regret their mistake. With the first dip in ocean or lake, the lustre is gone and the suit is ruined. Skinner's Satin is guaranteed fast color.

Its naturally heavy fabric does not cling to the figure when wet, as lighter satins do.

Look for the name in the selvage—that is the proof of the genuine.

We have the popular bathing suit shades of Skinner's Satin. Call and see them.

LABORERS MANAGE MILL. Plant Turned Over to Give Them Chance to Get Pay Due.

BAKER, Ore., June 29.—Laborers at a little sawmill at Thompson Siding are running the mill on a co-operative basis in the hope of earning their back wages due them because of J. F. Clark's failure to pay them.

The men came to Baker at Mr. Clark's direction. When they called at the Shockey & McMurren Lumber company for their pay, they found that Mr. Clark had drawn the pay and had failed to return, it is said. They held a conference with the sawmill owners, Ben Dickerson and T. S. Hilbert, and with the timber owner, Thomas Kirkley. It was decided that the men should return to the mill and work and pay themselves from the profits.

Clark had been buying the mill on the installment plan from Dickerson and Hilbert. The men are turning out more lumber under the co-operative arrangement that the mill has ever before produced with an equal force.

TO WOMEN WHO OVERDO. Thousands of American women in our homes are daily sacrificing their lives to duty. In order to keep the home neat and attractive, the children well dressed and tidy, women overdo. Soon a weakness or displacement is brought on and they suffer in silence, drifting along from bad to worse. For forty years Lydia E. REPAIRING THE LINER NEW YORK, RAMMED AT SEA BY THE PRETORIA

Scores of workmen began to repair the rent in the port bow of the liner New York just as soon as she arrived at New York after her collision at sea with the Pretoria early Saturday morning. The Pretoria of the Hamburg-American Line, bound to Germany, had torn a large hole in the bow of the New York bound west when the fog shut out the view of both vessels early Saturday morning out in the Atlantic.

When the liner struck every bulkhead on the New York was closed, and even had the hole been far below the water line, the vessel would not have sunk. Only one compartment would have filled. The New York was built on the old lines, with every part of the hull shut off so that when one filled with water it could not spread.
